Position Title: Financial Advisor

Opportunity Location: Nationwide

Preferred Majors: Marketing, Finance, Management, Sales and Accounting

Position Description:

As an Edward Jones Financial Advisor, you will work independently from your own single-broker, neighborhood office helping clients to achieve their long-term financial goals. We provide all the training you need, regardless of your major, although a financial background is a plus.

- Get paid while you study to obtain your securities and insurance licenses
- Receive initial and ongoing, industry-leading business development and financial training
- Experience unlimited earnings through commissions, bonuses and incentive travel

And do so at the firm ranked No. 2 on FORTUNE magazine's 2009 list of the "100 Best Companies to Work For".

Start Succeeding:

Based on your qualifications and background, there are three ways you can become a Financial Advisor:

- (1) Through the firm's traditional licensed Financial Advisor training program
- (2) Through the PASS (Practical Applications of Service and Solutions) Program, or
- (3) Through the Financial Advisor Apprentice Program.
